ACTIVITIES

I have been part of different school activities; seminars and programs that hones my well-being. Those activities provided many portals of growth as I embark this journey with a purpose. The realizations I have built over the years of teaching reassures me that I am ready to take this as a calling to inspire more teenagers by teaching them the required knowledge imbued with discipline and values that they needed in the real-life scenarios. The assurance of accepting the responsibilities is fastened on and the applicant is ready for takeoff.
