

EUROPEAN MASTER DEGREE IN PLANT HEALTH IN SUSTAINABLE CROPPING SYSTEMS – PLANTHEALTH PROJECT

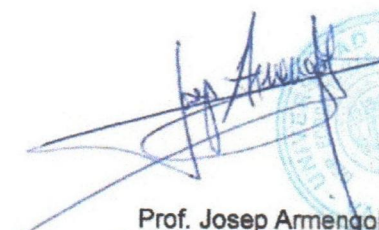

Universitat Politècnica de València, Coordinator of the PlantHealth Project, offered by 6 European universities (Universitat Politècnica de València, Spain; University of Göttingen, Germany; University of Padova, Italy; Montpellier SupAgro, AgroParis Tech and Agrocampus Ouest, France) and funded by the European Commission under the Erasmus+ Action 1 Programme - Erasmus Mundus Joint Masters Degrees, informs that

The student Jay Darryl Ermio born on 20/11/1994 in Bacolod City, Negros Occidental (Philippines):

- Was selected to participate in the 2-year Erasmus Mundus Joint Master Degree “European Master Degree in Plant Health in Sustainable Cropping Systems” at the partner universities of the abovementioned programme, starting 18th September 2018 and ending 17th September 2020.
- Completed the first master year at University of Göttingen (Germany) in the academic year 2018/2019 and the second master year at Universitat Politècnica de València (Spain) during the academic year 2019/2020.
- The master thesis defence took place on 15th October 2020.
- The structure of PlantHealth Erasmus Master Program is detailed here: <http://planthealth.upv.es/courses>
- The medium of instruction and examination of the whole PlantHealth master programme is English, and the above mentioned student has the necessary skills in reading, writing, listening and speaking to follow the programme.

Valencia, 02nd November 2020

Prof. Josep Armengol Forti
PlantHealth Project Coordinator