TRAINING/WORKSHOP/ORIENTATION PROPOSAL

Title: DALL OBE Syllabus-Making Writeshop

Participants: DALL Faculty

Date: August 14, 2023: 08:00 A.M. - 05:00 P.M.

Venue: DALL Conference Room

Rationale:

In the fast-evolving landscape of education, it's crucial for academic institutions to constantly reassess and realign their teaching strategies to address the needs of the current student population. Visayas State University, a prime educational hub catering primarily to students from rural regions, has experienced a significant transition in its method of instruction due to the recent global circumstances—from an online mode of learning to the more encompassing blended, or face-to-face format. This transition necessitates a timely review and potential revision of the syllabi, especially for the Department of Arts, Languages, and Literature, which plays a pivotal role in serving all students across the university.

For the AB English Language Studies major subjects and general education subjects, it's vital to ensure that the curriculum remains contemporary, engaging, and aligned with the latest trends in pedagogy and content delivery. An Outcomes Based Education (OBE) Syllabi Making Writeshop offers a targeted platform to achieve this. By focusing on desired outcomes, OBE encourages curriculum development that is centered around ensuring students acquire the skills, knowledge, and attitudes that will empower them in their future endeavors.

Given the unique positioning of Visayas State University, which bridges the educational aspirations of rural communities with global standards, this Writeshop is not just about keeping abreast with changes. It's about proactively shaping an academic environment where every student, irrespective of their background, has access to an education that is both relevant and globally competitive.

Objectives:

- To evaluate and update the current syllabi used in the Department of Arts, Languages, and Literature, ensuring alignment with contemporary trends, pedagogical practices, and the requirements of the blended and face-to-face learning environment.
- To empower faculty members with the skills and knowledge to develop and implement an Outcomes Based Education (OBE) syllabus effectively.
- To foster a collaborative environment where DALL faculty members can share, review, and refine syllabus content to ensure comprehensive coverage, relevance, and engagement for Visayas State University students.

Methodology/Strategy:

- Overview of OBE Syllabus Preparation: This will include discussions on the importance of outcome-based learning, the structure of an OBE syllabus, and the nuances of integrating it into various subject matters under DALL.
- Presentation of Proposed/Sample Syllabi per Subject: Faculty or assigned coordinators will present draft or sample syllabi for each subject. This stage will facilitate an initial assessment, encouraging constructive feedback and shared insights from participants.
- Writeshop Proper: Faculty members will work in groups or individually, applying the OBE framework to revise and/or construct syllabi. There will be breakout sessions for peer review, brainstorming, and refining the drafts.
- Presentation of Outputs. Representatives will present their outputs for feedback.

Resources Needed: LCD Projector/ Smart TV, Sample or existing syllabi for reference, Reliable internet connection, Laptop, Pen and Paper.

Expected Outcome:

- Revised OBE-aligned syllabus for each subject under the Department of Arts, Languages, and Literature.
